LIVE PROJECTS

A live project is a utilization of theory in to practicality or words to work. It's an excellent prospect to nurture students' academic, interpersonal, critical, oral communication, understanding, managerial skills and knowledge in real time environment. Live projects set specific juncture where skills can be transformed to performance and learning can develop on detailed procedures of particular industry. It imparts students with a feel of excitement and confidence. It is a shorter version of internship which builds up the practical knowledge of the students. In the institute the students are encouraged to work on live projects and also contribute in various extension activities for the advantage of the society and environment.

PERSONALITY ENHANCEMENT PROGRAM: (PEP MODEL)

The world of work is changing. According to the World Economic Forum, 65% of children entering primary school today will be employed in jobs that do not yet exist. Therefore, Career readiness competencies are required to be nurtured in the students. Shri Vaishnav Institute of Management, thus, implemented a PEP Model (Personality Enhancement Program) for the students to make them ready directly from Classroom to Corporate.

It enables students to understand how well they are prepared to meet the global needs. More than good grades and high test scores, students who develop these skills are better positioned for success in the workplace. In the PEP Framework we identify three pillars for the holistic development of the students or to develop a Whole Student. They are: Project Based Training, Value Based Training and Personality Development Training, that will illuminate three dimensions of their Professional image.

SKILL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM: KAUSHALYA

The growth of students relies on competitiveness and innovation, skills and productivity. Developing skills are as important as training. A large effort is needed to create a skilled workforce with employment potential.

The institute is always a pioneer to collaborate for the skill development of the students. One such short term certification course under the aegis of UGC approved Deen Dayal Upadhyay Koshal Kendra, DAVV, Indore, has been started for the students.

Many Skill developing, certified hands on trainings are given to the students such as Web Design and Development, Photoshop and Mobile Applications, to make them acquainted with the new technology and job ready. Thus, Skill development program aims at boosting student's confidence, improving technical and communication abilities and widening of knowledge etc.

CHANAKYA

To establish purposeful interaction between industry and institution, lecture series “Chanakya” has been initiated. Under this banner Industry Institute Interface Cell (IIC) and Entrepreneurship Development Cell (EDC) organized many fruitful lectures of renowned entrepreneurs and educators. Thus, by interacting with professionals students can gain new connections and learn how to communicate in a professional environment.

SAMVAD

Commercial world is dynamic and constantly changing. One of the most effective ways to build commercial awareness is to get the work experience and hands-on practice by which students can gain real world job experience, boost their resume and create the path to a successful career. Commercial awareness is one of the most important key features for employability and the only objective of Samvad.
